Specialist residential service for men with learning disabilities

Good

Now accepting referrals

Adele Cottages are 2 one-bed houses providing residential support for men with learning disabilities, associated complex needs and who may have behaviours that challenge. We provide placements for adults who require a supportive home, with round the clock care. The aim of the service is to provide a pathway from Cygnnet Sherwood Lodge and other hospitals back to community living.

Our service at a glance

Adele Cottages are two spacious 1 bedroom houses down a quiet country lane in Rainworth, Nottinghamshire. The houses have plenty of communal spaces including large gardens, lounges and kitchens where individuals are supported to develop their daily living skills.

We provide support to our residents by providing them with the ability to enhance and maintain their daily living skills. In order to encourage each individual to maintain autonomy and independence as far as possible, individuals are not excluded from undertaking activities simply because there is an element of risk involved. Positive risk taking is considered an integral part of living.

Individuals are assessed and a plan of support is devised to support them, which includes relapse prevention. Residents are supported to attend and participate in the local community. The local community organisations in turn are also encouraged to visit the service.
