Enhanced Community Residential Service for Men with Neuropsychiatric or Neurodegenerative Conditions and Complex Needs

Meadows Mews, West Midlands

Now accepting referrals

Meadows Mews is an enhanced community residential service for men with neuropsychiatric or neurodegenerative conditions in Tipton, who may have behaviours that challenge alongside additional social and complex needs.

Meadows Mews acts as a transitional service from inpatient rehabilitation for individuals who have been able to progress through the hospital pathway, but now require the ability to return to the community; where participation in both social and domestic activities is vital for their quality of life and long term future in the community.

It is vital therefore, that a robust and effective community reintegration programme is provided for those coming out of a hospital setting. We ensure that individuals can achieve their most independent and positive lifestyle, taking full advantage of all their hard work to achieve a level of recovery that can allow them to explore living in the community.

It can be daunting for service users to go from a hospital setting to living in the community with minimal restrictions. This is why residents at Meadows Mews will continue to receive psychiatric, psychological, occupational therapy and support worker interventions and support, as required.
